

Index To Volumes I - XX

In past years with each fourth issue The Business Quarterly has published an annual index of articles and authors. In this issue, marking the completion of twenty volumes, we publish a complete index of all articles in The Business Quarterly since it began as a student magazine in 1933.

Over the years The Business Quarterly has published articles on all aspects of business and on all sizes of operations from the small retail store to the large corporation. Many famous men from business, government and university have contributed: the Honourable Paul Martin, George Drew, Solon Low, M. J. Coldwell, Kenneth Galbraith, Nik Cavell, Aaron R. Mosher of the Canadian Confederation of Labour, John R. White, President of Imperial Oil, to name only a few.

The index catalogues articles according to author and title, but in addition, to help students researching in special fields, we have added such valuable subject headings and grouped relevant article under them as Accounting, Administrative Practices, Advertising, etc.

Back numbers are in most cases still in print and available at $1.00.

To help readers judge how topical are articles, the following shows the years in which the volumes appeared:
